Injustice to the Teachers.

We are requested by a member of the School Board to say that the report that the Board had passed a resolution to the effect that the teachers would not be elected for next year until after the schools had closed, is unauthorized and not true. No such resolution as that mentioned in the report has been before the Board.—Kentuckian-Citizen.

Will the above mentioned member of the School Board say that the Board has not resolved to not elect the teachers for the ensuing year until sometime in May? This paper was informed that it would not be until after the school closed. This was perhaps wrong, and we are glad to make correction. Now, we will say in May, and the school closes the last week in May. Heretofore the teachers have been elected in March or April, giving those who were not elected ample time to secure another position, all time to be filled before the Paris Board passes on their application. We say it is an injustice to the teachers.

If you can elect a Superintendent for three years in advance, surely you could give your teachers notice a few months in advance.

If the School Board would hold its meetings in some public place, as the city charter requires, where any citizen desiring to attend could do so, instead of the star chamber meetings indulged in by them, probably reporters would not get the proceedings wrong.

Repairs on Turnpikes Let at Auction.

Persuant to advertisement the letting of repairing of turnpike in Bourbon was put up at public outcry at the court house door yesterday. One hundred miles were let at from $12 to $18.75 per rod, the lowest bids on same. The Supervisor then became disgusted and stopped the sale, claiming that if it continued the money would give out before the letting was half over. The average cost last year was about $7.50 per rod, the contracts being let by sealed bids. There are about 300 miles of pike in the county.

DEATHS.

—Judge James Edward Cantrill passed away at his home on Chambers avenue, in Georgetown, at 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The end came quietly, the patient apparently sinking into a gentle sleep.

Judge James Edward Cantrill, lawyer, son of Edward F. and Susan F. Cantrill, was born June 20, 1838, in Bourbon county, Kentucky. The ancestors of this distinguished member of the bar were natives of the commonwealth of Virginia, from which they emigrated at an early day; his grandfather settling in Bourbon county, Ky. His father was a farmer in this fertile region of the State. Judge Cantrill attended a common school in the neighborhood of his home, until about 16 years of age. He then entered Georgetown College, graduating at that institution in the year of 1858. After leaving college he commenced the study of law in the office of Mr. Polk, in the class consisting of Rev. J. C. Morris, of Louisville; Hon. J. R. Ward, of Cynthiana; W. R. Webb and two or three others.

He was an excellent soldier, a brave and fearless Judge, and a courteous and refined gentleman.

A Mason in high standing, a member of the Knights Templar, and Past Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky, his influence as a fraternal man was wide and varied. He was married June 5, 1869, to Miss Jennie Moore, of Fayette county. They had one child, Hon. James Campbell Cantrill, who survives.

The wife who survives him was Miss Mary Cecil, of Danville. Cecil Cantrill, their son is employed by the Indian Oil Company, Georgetown.

The funeral services will be held this (Tuesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Goe. W. Davis, our well-known Paris undertaker has charge of the funeral, which will no doubt be one of the largest ever held in the State.

—Charles (Riley) Grannan died Friday at Rawhide, Nev., of pneumonia.

He was the son of Mrs. Anna Grannan, of this city, and was in his 38th year of age at the time of his death. He is survived by his mother, three brothers and two sisters—Edward, Joseph and Lizzie, of Cincinnati, and City Attorney Wm. Grannan and Miss Mary Grannan, who reside with their mother in this city.

Few men in the world of sport and fewer followers of the turf have had a more spectacular career than that of Riley Grannan.

At the age of 12 he left his humble home to hustle in the world. He sold programs at the race tracks in Kentucky in spring, summer and fall, and in winter worked in hotels. He was an elevator boy in the Gibson House in Cincinnati and at the old St. Charles Hotel in New Orleans. He had won and lost several large fortunes, at one time being worth over $200,000. He was considered to be the nerviest bettor known to the sporting world.

Gambler he was, every inch of his frail body, but abroad and at home he was known as a square man.

The following telegram was received yesterday by Mr. Wm. Grannan, brother of the deceased:

Rawhide, Nev., April 5, 1908.

Wm. Grannan, Paris, Ky.

Obsequies over Riley Grannan's remains held here today. Record crowd for Nevada. All town business suspended during service. His body leaves Reno tonight on Overland Limited for home. Letter follows.

10 p. m. GEO. O. WEEDEN.

Joseph Grannan and remains leave Kansas City Wednesday morning. Arrive in Paris Thursday noon. Funeral services will probably be held Saturday.

RASSENFOSS.

—In a cablegram received by George Rassenfoss, of Paris, came the announcement of the death of his father, Ferdinand Rassenfoss, at Herxheim, in Rhein, Bavaria, Germany. Mr. Rassenfoss resided with his son, Valentine Rassenfoss, and at the time of his death was in the eighty-sixth year of his age.

The deceased was a farmer and died in the same house in which he was born. He served as a private in the German-Australian war of 1866 and for thirty years was a member of the city council of Herxheim. Mr. Rassenfoss visited his father eight years ago and contemplated another visit to his aged parent this summer.

The deceased is survived by four sons, three of whom are citizens of the United States—John and Frank Rassenfoss, of Cincinnati, and George Rassenfoss, of Paris.

—The Rev. George O. Barnes, the famous "mountain evangelist" of Kentucky, died on Sanibel Island, off the coast of Florida, where he has lived in retirement for several years. He became widely known as an evangelist in the mountains of Kentucky, and afterwards made a tour of the world. Revival meetings conducted by him were attended by great crowds, and thousands were led by him to profess Christianity.
